PROJECTS:

APPRENTICESHIP IN JAVA FULL STACK DEVELOPMENT

Completed a comprehensive Java Full Stack Development course at Pentagon Space, where I gained hands-on experience in both front-end and back-end technologies. Learned to develop dynamic web applications using Java, Spring Boot, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. The program included practical projects that enhanced my problem-solving skills and understanding of software development best practices.

SHOPPING HARD OR HARDLY SHOPPING REVEALING CONSUMER SEGMENTS USING CLICK STREAM DATA

The recent rise of big data analytics is transforming the apparel retailing industry. E-retailers, for example, effectively use large volumes of data generated as a result of their day-to-day business operations data to aid operations and supply chain management. Although logs of how consumers navigate through an e-commerce website are readily available in a form of clickstream data, clickstream analysis is rarely used to derive insights that can support marketing decisions, leaving it an under-researched area of study.

ONLINE BANKING SYSTEM

Technologies: Java, HTML, CSS

Developed a web-based banking application that allows users to perform basic banking operations such as account creation, balance checking, deposits, and withdrawals. Implemented user authentication with secure login and session management. Designed the user interface using HTML and CSS for a clean and responsive experience. The backend was built using Java to handle business logic and manage transactions efficiently.
